In today's Gospel, what does Jesus mean in saying to the Twelve, "Anyone who prefers father or mother" or "son of daughter to me is not worthy of me"? He is saying that Christian discipleship is the greatest of all callings. In fact, it is the greatest calling in the history of the world! It's not just the calling of the prophets and Apostles. It's our calling too. How much priority do we give it in our lives? Fr John

Sacred Heart Cathedral sits on the traditional country of the Awabakal and Worimi peoples.

We acknowledge their cultural heritage, beliefs and their continuing relationship with the land, pay respect to their Elders past, present and future, and commit ourselves to working together for reconciliation and justice.

NEXT WEEK'S READINGS:

14TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME, YEAR A

Zech 9: 9-10

Rom 8:9, 11-13

Mt 11:25-30

FROM THE MODERATOR

Dear friends,

Firstly, my congratulations to those children who have completed their initiation into our faith recently through their reception of the sacraments of Confirmation and First Communion. We had some wonderful celebrations, especially with our new Bishop Michael conferring Confirmation on a number of our children at Stockton and the Cathedral in late May. My special thanks go to Dr Anne Millard, my fellow clergy, parents and those RECs from our schools who assisted these children in their preparation for this. Please keep these children and their families in your prayers.

Secondly, our new Bereavement Team for the City Pastoral Region will soon be ready to commence their ministry of healing. Via the Stepping Stones process they have been undergoing formation since September last year and are now engaged in the final stage: We Pray Together. I am very grateful for the generosity of these seven volunteers along with Fr Roger Zohrab, Benita Tait and Sr Louise Gannon rsj for facilitating this process for us. I ask that you keep our Bereavement Team in your prayers. They will be a great pastoral support for us over the coming months and years.

Thirdly, as you would now be aware, the parishes of our City Pastoral Region will be subject to a Safeguarding audit by Australian Catholic Safeguarding Ltd (ACSL) during the last quarter of this year. Accordingly, you will have seen information on the standards that we will be audited against in recent parish bulletins. All of our volunteers will be invited to attend a safeguarding course in the coming months to help us all prepare for this. And Sean Tynan, the Manager of our Office of Safeguarding, will be giving presentations after some of our Masses during July. More information on this will be provided in coming weeks.

Finally, those of you who worship at the Sacred Heart Cathedral may have noticed that the white trailer toilet that was situated on the eastern side of the Cathedral was removed last Monday. We have now been given access to the new toilets located at the Cathedral end of the Tudor Street Building (located behind the presbytery at the eastern side of the Cathedral). To access these amenities, parishioners and visitors attending liturgies at the Cathedral will need to borrow a fob (a scan device attached to a wooden cross), a couple of which are in a tray on a small table halfway down the nave of the Cathedral. Please return the fob you borrow to the tray immediately after use, so others can use it. If you are in doubt as to how this works, please do not hesitate to contact one of our MCs, servers or staff for directions. My apologies for any inconvenience this new arrangement may cause.

Kindest regards,
Fr John

SAFEGUARDING

Do you know about safeguarding? We continue our ten-part series addressing each of the Safeguarding Standards.

The historical management of complaints of abuse have received fierce criticism. Not only our Church but Government and other religious entities did not act in a legal or ethical manner when dealing with complaints and knowledge of abuse. This standard clearly demonstrates that, as an organisation, the Australian Catholic church has changed, and it acknowledges the historical issues and has willingly embraced and extended the recommendations of relevant Royal Commissions. This standard is written so that it can move with changes in legislation, regulation, and doctrine. This standard does not exist on paper alone, each entity must show compliance with every criterion

The sixth standard; EFFECTIVE COMPLAINTS MANAGEMENT has 6 criteria .

COMPETENCY: Processes for raising concerns and complaints are responsive, understood, accessible and used by children, adults, families, carers, communities, and personnel Criteria 6.1: The entity's Complaints Handling Policy outlines the roles and responsibilities, approaches to dealing with different types of complaints, reporting obligations and record keeping requirements.

Criteria 6.2: The Complaint Handling Policy is understood by children, adults, families, carers, and personnel, and focuses on the rights of children and adults at risk.

Criteria 6.3: Complaints are taken seriously and responded to promptly and thoroughly Criteria 6.4: The Complaints Handling Policy includes the process of reporting complaints and concerns to relevant authorities, requiring cooperation with any statutory or contractual processes.

Criteria 6.5: The Church Authority ensures mechanisms are in place to support complainants of child and adult sexual abuse.

Criteria 6.6: The Church Authority ensures respondents facing allegations are supported and monitored.

REFLECTION

By Richard Leonard

For all the great things the Church of yesteryear achieved, it also did some terrible things. One of the worst demands it made was that a Catholic who married a person who was not a Catholic did so at a side altar, oratory or in the sacristy of the Church. How humiliating this directive was. For how long were we going to punish the Protestant Reformers and young Catholic woman or man who fell in love with someone from these denominations? In these ecumenical days, it's hard for us to understand these actions..

Today, especially at weddings, I hear older Catholics talk about this experience more than anything else. It's often given as the reason why the person or their family stopped practising their Catholic faith. Recently an older wedding guest told me that her wedding day at the side altar was the last day she came to the Church of her own free will. She never had her children baptised and her painful experience was still palpable forty years on as she compared and contrasted her wedding day with the Catholic marriage ceremony of a couple in a similar religious circumstance to her own which we had just celebrated. All I can do in such circumstances is apologise for the hurt our shortsightedness caused and be full of admiration for those who were subjected to similar treatment but have remained constant to our Catholic community.

These days inter-denominational marriages are rarely the reasons over which a family will divide. But we know that other religious issues can still break up a family. It's always a tragedy when this happens. For example, maybe you've had a son, daughter or a grandchild join a religious sect or cult. It's heartbreaking stuff for parents who wonder what their child sees in the sect and where it will all end .

The Church has sometimes let families down in this regard. Appearing to prefer dogma to the complexities of people's lives, formal liturgy to creating communities of hospitality, care and justice, the church can appear to be out of touch, especially with our young. I know that every person in authority in the Church today knows that the Catholic Church needs to listen to our young people, hear about the issues that concern them and present our faith in a way they find accessible and engaging. Very often it's not what we say about our rich faith, it's how we say it. Many people don't leave the mainstream churches because they are attracted by another group's doctrine, though some do want the world to be very black and white. Many leave for smaller groups offering a tightly knit community.

From today's Gospel we know that the same family heartbreak occurred in the early church. At this time, however, Christianity was the small sect drawing believers away from Judaism, to acknowledge Jesus as the Messiah. It ripped families apart. The early church became the new family of many followers who were disowned. They lost their life and found a new one in Christ.

There can be moments when a family's lifestyle, beliefs, behaviour or values are such that one member feels that, in conscience, or by conviction, he or she does not belong anymore.

When this happens we can listen carefully to reasons the family member gives. Maybe we have lost something essential in our life together that needs challenging and change. And maybe it's the family member who is in the wrong.

Keeping the lines of communication open, speaking the truth with calmness and love and remaining as compassionate as possible are the best Christian responses.

I can't pretend that any of this is easy, but, when I have seen families do it, the prophetic, truthful and charitable rewards Jesus offers in today's Gospel are powerfully in evidence. Richard Leonard SJ

THE APOSTLES CREED

I believe in God, the Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth;
and in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord;
Who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died, and was buried.
He descended into hell;
on the third day He rose again from the dead.
He ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty; from there He shall come to judge the living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church,
the communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body and life everlasting. Amen

HISTORICAL CONTEXT: A COLD CUP OF WATER

Jesus says, 'If anyone gives so much as a cup of cold water' to a disciple spreading the gospel, then their ultimate reward is assured. To give 'a cup of cold water' or 'a cold drink' to another person was the most basic act of hospitality or service. It is a metaphor for doing the absolute least service to another. Jesus is saying that even the most trivial act of service that recognises the work of the disciple will be welcomed and acknowledged. It suggests that 'practical loving kindness' is both the test and the result of discipleship.
