FROM THE PARISH PRIEST

Dear Parish Family,

I have spent a few days recently with the Clergy Life and Ministry NSW Directors (CLAM NSW). I find myself, without opposition or nomination it seems, the newly crowned chair of the group. It means a couple of extra meetings as well as organising and then hosting in Sydney the National gathering of Directors in June 2026. It feels not a long way off. Any thoughts for a topic or speakers you think might be of interest to the directors please pop them in an email to me for consideration.

Over the last days I had the privilege of listening to a Psychologist, Angela McCabe from Canberra on a 'Trauma Informed Approach' to ministry as well as Clara Geoghegan from the Catholic Bishops Conference on 'Toward a Synodal Church.'

I always feel enriched coming away from not only the opportunity to network with the other directors but also the opportunity to receive some faith and ministry type formation. I feel the better for it, hopefully you will too. I have an opportunity to hear what others are doing in the Diocese and parishes and ~~steal~~ borrow some wonderful ideas.

I was wondering if over the next couple of weeks, you might do me a favour. Would you mind grabbing what ever name tag you have at home and wear it for me. It will help me in a big way learn your names, your Christian names anyway. It will also give me a sense of the various places that you yourselves minister. If they are from your workplace, social club or home made it will really open the community more broadly that I am called to support you in and to whom I am also called to be pastor. You will be amazed at the variety of places we Christian Catholics find ourselves living out our faith in word and in deed. If it could happen over the next few weeks, it means that I will have an opportunity to see you at Mass as I move across the roster.

Living a synodal church is an acknowledgement of our individual vocations born of our baptisms and the roles we are called to as Christians. I think about those various places you go after Mass each Sunday and the ways that you collaborate in the first instance with the mission of the church to evangelise. Remembering that in Matthew's Gospel (28:18-21) the call on all of us 'Jesus came up and spoke to them. He said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go, therefore, make disciples of all nations; baptise them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teach them to observe all the commands I gave you.' You know as well as I the challenges sometimes to do what Jesus asks; however, I suspect you do this more than you think in the very act of living your Christian faith in the places you are called to be in each day.

Keep the faith.

Greg

Parish Priest.

GOSPEL FOCUS

My Son, the Beloved

'You are my Son, the Beloved; my favour rests on you.' This declaration by the voice from Heaven – the voice of God – is an amalgamation of two earlier pieces of scripture: 'You are my son; today I have begotten you' (Ps 2:7) and 'Here is my servant, whom I uphold, my chosen, in whom my soul delights' (Is 42:1). The fact that it is uttered before Jesus has begun his ministry is a sign to all of us that God delights in us for who we are, not for what we have achieved in our lives.

NEXT WEEK'S READINGS:

Isaiah 62:1-5

1 Cor 12:4-11

John 2:1-11

REFLECTION BY RICHARD LEONARD

These days there are some young Catholic parents who wonder whether baptism is the proper thing for them to seek for their children. One argument they sometimes offer is that it would be better to defer baptism until their child reaches adulthood and then he or she has the opportunity to choose it. As appealing as this argument might seem on the surface, the problem is that the reasoning behind it is so inconsistently applied.

Young Catholic parents do not give their children any choice about eating vegetables, learning to read or write and living out a moral code. They enforce these things because they know that nutrition, literacy and ethics are essential for adulthood. If we recognise that, from birth, a child has spiritual as well as educational, moral and physical needs, it strikes me as inconsistent to relegate this constitutively otherworldly element of a child's character to a 'must be decided on later' category.

Baptism is not brainwashing. Adults can come and go from the practise of their faith as they feel drawn. Sadly for us, they can even choose against belief. To grow up, however, with no religious foundation or no basis on which to make spiritual choices seems to limit freedom rather than promote it. In our culture baptism of infants by their parents is an entirely proper thing to do.

In today's Gospel we hear that Jesus was baptised by John in the Jordan because it was 'the proper thing to do'.

This can seem all quaintly odd to us today because we seem to accept that our only convention is to flout convention. The done thing today is to undo what we've done before.

We hold very strongly, however, to the idea that God always does the 'proper thing'. It's called 'appropriateness' in theology. We believe, for example, that God decided it was proper to become incarnate when he did, how he did and where he did. Over the centuries there's been endless debate about what would've happened if the Word had come to us as a woman, in another era, on another continent. While these are interesting enough matters on which to speculate, they are not what God thought proper – or what, in fact, happened.

In line with the right action of God, Jesus does the proper thing in being baptised by John's baptism of repentance, even though he had nothing of which to repent. Jesus is not simply baptised, however, simply because it was expected of him, just a fulfilment of his duty. Jesus' experience of baptism starts with John's baptism as an admission of guilt and then reveals that baptism is primarily about the Father's love. To this day our baptismal ritual holds these two realities in a healthy tension. When we are baptised in Christ, we acknowledge both Original Sin and Original Grace. God's love comes alive in us even though we are aware of how far from that love we stray.

The Baptism of Jesus and every baptism done in his name ever since, is the moment when we hold together the greatness of God's love, that calls each of us by name to be his son or daughter, with the reality of our human frailty. What more appropriate way of welcoming anyone into the world than having a community of frail, human believers initiate its members by reminding them that Original Sin does not have the last word. For those of us baptised in Christ, the Father's love always and everywhere has the final, appropriate say on every matter.

May this Eucharist make us worthy of the love lavished on us in baptism and give us the courage to keep doing the appropriate things for the coming generations.

THE JUBILEE LOGO

The cross of Christ is the hope that cannot ever be abandoned because we are always in need of it, especially in the most difficult moments.

The Cross, in the shape of a sail, is transformed into an anchor that imposes itself over the waves in motion. A universal symbol of Hope.

The figures represent humanity from the four corners of the World. They are embracing each other to illustrate the solidarity between the peoples, as the first holds onto the cross.

The rough sea is a reminder of the difficulties of the pilgrimage of life. Often, personal events as well as those of the world, press on us more intensely, demanding a greater hope.

The logo shows how the way of the pilgrimage is not an individual effort, but rather collective, with the impression of a growing dynamism that tends more and more to the cross.

WHAT'S HAPPENING @ SACRED HEART

Sacred Heart Morning Tea

Once a month (on the second Sunday) after 9:30am Mass, the Sacred Heart Cathedral community gathers together for morning tea. All are welcome! Our next morning tea is this weekend—January 12—to welcome Fr Greg as our new parish priest. We are very blessed that so many parishioners bring along a plate to share—it's always a feast and it's always wonderful! There is availability for volunteers to help with setting up morning tea, so if you'd be interested, please see Anne or Mihaela after Mass. Thank you!

Sacred Heart Sips and Chips

Once a month after 5:30pm Mass, the Sacred Heart Cathedral community gathers together for "Sips and Chips". The name emerged because initially we sipped a bubbly beverage and ate potato chips. However, the menu has developed over the years and now it's rather more than just chips, thanks to the generosity of parishioners who bring along a plate to share—thank you! Our next sips and chips is 25 January. All are welcome.

Sacred Heart Choir

Why not join the choir?? There are many reasons to join a choir, including:

Confidence: Singing in a group can be a life-changing experience.

Physical health: Singing in a choir can improve your posture, strengthen your respiratory system, and lower your blood pressure.

Mental health: Singing can boost your endorphins and decrease stress, depression, and anxiety.

Sense of community: Choir members build strong bonds and support each other spiritually.

Make friends: You can make friends and build relationships with people who have a common interest

Sacred Heart Cathedral Choir sings each Sunday morning at 9:30am. Practices are Thursday evening at 6pm and Sunday morning at 8:45am.

Smaller groups sing on Saturday evening and Sunday evening Masses. We practice for 30 minutes before Mass. All are welcome to join any of our choirs!
